
Mary Washington College Bulletin
1978 Summer Session

Mary Washington College does not discriminate in recruiting, admitting, or enrolling students on the basis of race, color, religion, physical disability, national origin, political affiliation, marital status, sex, or age. Complaints should be directed to the Vice President and AAEEO Officer, Mary Washington College, Box 3575 College Station, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

Mary Washington College Bulletin, Summer Catalogue Issue. Volume 9, Number 1, March 1978. Published quarterly by Mary Washington College, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401. Second Class Postage paid at the Post Office, Fredericksburg, Virginia 22401.

ADMISSIONS AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

Students who wish to enroll for the summer session should file an application with the Dean of Admissions and Financial Aid, preferably not later than three weeks before the session they wish to attend. Exceptions will be made when circumstances justify a late application. Students who are applying for one of the courses with field experience or for the workshops should pay particular attention to the deadline dates shown with the course descriptions.

An application fee of ten dollars ($10.00) must accompany an application for admission to the summer session. This fee is not refundable.

Students currently in other colleges or who plan to enroll in other colleges must present a certificate of eligibility in order to enroll for summer courses at Mary Washington College. A form for this purpose is included in the admissions packet of materials.

Talented secondary school students who have completed their junior year but have not been graduated must submit written approval of the principal or guidance counselor.

Acceptance for the summer session does not imply acceptance for admission to the regular sessions of the College. Credits earned during the summer by students who have not been granted regular admission status to Mary Washington will be considered for degree credit only when regular admission is granted.

Application forms, instructions, and registration materials may be obtained from the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid, Room 303, George Washington Hall, or by returning the form attached.

Mary Washington College provides limited part-time employment opportunities to assist students in meeting summer term costs. For information and applications on part-time campus employment, inquiries should be directed to the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid after April 1.

HONOR SYSTEM

Mary Washington College adheres to an honor system administered and enforced solely by the students. This authority is delegated to the students by the Board of Visitors.

The Honor System provides that a student shall act honorably in all aspects of campus life. Lying, cheating, stealing, or breaking one's word of honor are considered infringements of the Honor System. Whenever a violation of the Honor System is proved, the result is usually immediate and permanent separation from the College.

Every student entering the College for the first time is given a copy of the entire Code of the Honor System. After he has familiarized himself with its provisions and is certain of its meaning and obligations, he signs a pledge stating that he understands what is expected of him and that he realizes that a plea of ignorance will not be accepted by the Honor Council. Registration as a student in the College is not considered complete, and no grades or credits will be released until this card has been signed.

FEES AND EXPENSES

Tuition	$28 per credit hour (Virginia residents)
	$56 per credit hour (Non-Virginia residents)
Room	$69 (3-week term) $92 (4-week term)
Board	$75 (3-week term) $100 (4-week term)

Fees must be paid by the registration date. Those students who register by mail must send fees by the date stated in the registration material. Students who sign up on the registration date must pay that day. If financial aid has been awarded, any such award will be deducted from the amount due.

WITHDRAWAL CHARGES

Any student who drops a course or courses before the end of the drop period will receive a full tuition refund for these courses. After the end of the drop period, NO REFUND WILL BE MADE.

Students who cancel their registration before the beginning of a course will receive a full refund of tuition, room, and board.

Room and board charges for residential students who completely withdraw from a term or change status from residential to day:

Room:

Withdrawal during first week.....$23.00

Withdrawal after first week

Three-week session.....$69.00

Four-week session.....$100.00

Board:

Per diem charge for each day in residence from the date the residence halls open to the date of withdrawal.....$3.60 per day

Regulations concerning classification as a Virginia student will be sent with admission applications.

REGISTRATION

Students admitted to the summer session may register for classes either by mail up to April 28 or on the regular registration day prior to the first term they are attending.

Students wishing to complete registration by mail should return the form on the back of this Bulletin in sufficient time to receive and return the registration material by April 28. Registration by mail must be accompanied by full payment of appropriate fees as outlined in this Bulletin. Classes will be filled on a first come-first served basis.

Persons not receiving registration materials by mail may obtain them at registration.

Registration for all courses and workshops will take place in the Office of Student Records, 215 George Washington Hall, on the days indicated in the calendar above between 4:00 p.m. and 8:00 p.m.

Registration for Workshops

Workshops are usually courses which are of a shorter length of time than those of the regular summer session. The dates for these courses are listed in the course descriptions. Students who plan to register for a workshop which begins on the first day of one of the regular terms should register on the regular registration day for that term at the times indicated. Students registering only for a workshop beginning after the first day of a regular summer term should register on the first day of the course at a time which does not interfere with class attendance.

SPECIAL COURSE OFFERINGS

The special courses described below will be offered during the 1978 Summer Session. Descriptions of all other courses are listed in the 1976-78 Mary Washington College Catalogue. The College reserves the right to change the course offerings as necessitated by enrollment and availability of staff.

CHICACOAN INDIAN ARCHEOLOGICAL RESEARCH PROJECT
(ANTH 0500. Internship-Archaeology)

Archeological excavations will be conducted in the territory occupied by the historic Chicacoan (Cekacawon) chiefdom. The locality is bounded by the Coan and Potomac Rivers, Hull Creek, and Virginia State Highway 360 in Northumberland County, Virginia.

Surveys have located a large Late Woodland and Historic period village (ca. A.D. 800 to European contact). Excavations at the village site and two nearby stratified sites are planned in order to isolate Late Woodland and Historic aboriginal occupations.

The research objectives are: (1) to utilize a direct historical approach in identifying the Historic archeological components; (2) to study the subsistence-settlement strategies of the Late Woodland and Historic periods; and (3) to construct a local sequence of Late Woodland and Historic phases.

A typical field day will start at 6:00 a.m. with the crew on the site to begin work by 7:15 a.m. There will be from 30 to 45 minutes for lunch. Excavation will stop around 4:30 p.m. to begin closing-up the site, and the crew will leave by 5:00 p.m. Informal discussions on Middle Atlantic archeology, ethnohistory, and archeological techniques will be held in the evenings as time permits. (Additional information may be obtained from Dr. Margaret Williamson, Department of Sociology and Anthropology.)

MARINE BIOLOGY
(BIOL 352S)

For the tenth consecutive year, the College will offer an undergraduate Summer Institute in Marine Biology at the Cross Rip Camp on the Chesapeake Bay near Deltaville, Virginia for students, teachers, and interested persons with sufficient background. The six-week course, which begins May 22, affords students a unique opportunity to blend theory and practical application in a setting which is ideal for the study of marine biology. (For additional details, contact Dr. William Pinschmidt, Jr., Department of Biology.)

COMPUTER WORKSHOP
(CPSC 201S-202S)

The Department of Mathematics, Statistics, and Computer Science will offer two three-credit Summer Workshops in Computer Programming and Systems. The general philosophy of the workshops will be to promote "hands-on" experience with the computer in a flexible academic atmosphere.

Each workshop will utilize the on-campus Hewlitt-Packard 3000 real-time system for practical implementation and demonstration of classroom concepts. The student will have the opportunity to apply general systems techniques to projects and investigations of personal interest.

Workshop I will be offered during the first four-week summer term. Topics covered will include: system commands in time-shared Basic; flowcharting; programming in time-shared Basic; elementary file organization; and general topics in number representation and machine implemented arithmetic.

Workshop II will be offered during the second four-week term. Since Workshop II will be an extension of the first workshop, permission of the instructor will be necessary for anyone wishing to participate in the second without attending the first. Topics covered in Workshop II will include: editing and manipulation of files; advanced system commands; use of peripheral file storage devices; and Fortran programming. (Additional information may be obtained from Dr. Dale A. Brown, Department of Mathematics, Statistics, and Computer Science.)

ISSUES IN LIT: FANTASY WORKSHOP
(ENGL 0251-01)

ENGL 0251-01 will focus on reading, evaluating, and writing fantasy. Students will study various forms in the genre and will write short works of their own for in-class discussion. The course will be offered during the first four-week term. (Further information is available from Dr. Donald Glover, Department of English.)

FILM-LITERATURE WORKSHOP FOR TEACHERS
(ENGL 0251-02)

A special workshop for teachers, Literature through Film, will be offered June 20-July 8 by the Department of English. Designed primarily for secondary school teachers, the course will focus extensively on film and television as means of developing greater student interest in both image media and literature. Lectures, screenings, discussions, course outline developing, and extensive workshop application will compose the course. (Details are available from Dr. William Kemp, Department of English.)

SUMMER STUDY IN DRAMATIC ARTS
(DRAM 250S-251S)

In conjunction with the Fredericksburg Summer Theatre (FST), the College will offer a workshop in acting and technical theatre during each four-week summer term. In addition to attending morning classes, students in the program will study with experienced actors and technicians and will participate in all phases of the FST productions of Fiddler on the Roof, You Know I Can't Hear You When the Water's Running, and The Roar of the Grease Paint, The Smell of the Crowd. (Details on the program may be obtained from Mr. Neil Howard, Department of Dramatic Arts and Dance.)

CIVIL WAR INSTITUTE
(HIST 0471)

The Summer Civil War Institute will be offered again this summer at Mary Washington College. Just as the Civil War was the watershed of American history, today it is the most popular era in the nation's past. Over 60,000 books and monographs describe its many facets. Discussions of the Civil War habitually draw the highest student interest at all levels of education. Meanwhile, historians have consistently disagreed among themselves on practically every phase of the conflict. Thus, faced with a flood of literature and a mass of conflicting interpretations, both school teachers and students tend to be overwhelmed by the subject.

The Summer Civil War Institute is designed to eliminate much of the confusion, complexity, and general misunderstanding attendant to that era. Of paramount importance will be an attempt to establish a totally objective and impartial atmosphere in which the student may carry out a scholarly analysis of the background, progress, and legacy of that war.

Included in the curriculum will be morning and afternoon classroom sessions, special guided tours of nearby battlefields, private screenings of Hollywood productions, guest lecturers, banquets, informal get-togethers, and other events. (Additional information may be obtained from Dr. A.R. Merchent, Director of the Summer Session.)

CHORAL MUSIC FOR SCHOOL
(MUHL 471S)

Comprehensive survey of selected choral offerings for the school. Workshop participants sing and discuss choral techniques. (Further information may be obtained from Mr. Roger Bailey, Department of Music.)

CHORAL MUSIC FOR CHURCH
(MUHL 472S)

Comprehensive survey of selected choral offerings for the church. Workshop participants sing and discuss choral techniques. (Further information may be obtained from Mr. Roger Bailey, Department of Music.)

ORCHESTRAL MUSIC
(MUHL 470S, MUHL 360S, and MUPR 0355)

Three unique two credit courses dealing with orchestral music will be offered this summer by the Department of Music in conjunction with the Chatham Orchestra Institute which will be in session June 27-July 1 and July 4-8: The Orchestra and the School (MUHL 470S) will deal with topics of interest to those involved with school orchestra maintenance; Symphonic Music (MUHL 360S) will rely on score analysis for a theoretical and historical study of a musical genre from its roots to the present; and Orchestra Ensemble (MUPR 0355) will focus on orchestral literature from all periods. (Further information may be obtained from Dr. James Baker, Department of Music.)

WOMEN AND SOCIETY
(SOCG 302S)

This course will examine the sociological concepts of Role-taking, Reference Group, and the Generalized Other. Using these concepts, an historical analysis will be made of the role of women in American Society. Sex discrimination will be examined, and the socio-psychological effects of this discrimination will be studied. The course will conclude with an examination of sex equality movements and organizations formed by women to oppose these movements.

WOMEN AND POWER
(SOCG 306S)

To be offered during the second four-week term, Women and Power has been designed to encourage an awareness of the effect of power upon women and of the types of responses women have traditionally made to power structures. The prerequisite course is Women and Society (SOCG 302S). (Further details are available from Dr. Clyde Carter, Department of Sociology.)
